T-H Defeat Disappointing To Eisenhower

Congress Leaders Discuss Legislation With President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was pictured today as "disappointed, of course," by the Senate setback to his Taft-Hartley labor law recommended changes.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) gave that description to newsmen after congressional leaders met with Mr. Eisenhower.

Knowland Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. said there was agreement to lay aside Taft-Hartley revision for the time being while going ahead with other administration measures.

They said no other course was possible in view of a solid Democratic stand in the Senate last week which sent the administration bill back to committee.

The legislative leaders said there was no talk about the Indochina situation at their regular weekly meeting with the President.

Knowland said he had no information about published reports that Mr. Eisenhower intends to request greater defense appropriations and an early start on universal military training because of events in Asia.

Go Ahead With Bills
Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) and Rep. Samuel McConnell (R-Pa.), chairmen of the Senate and House labor committees, joined in the weekly legislative meeting at the White House.

Martin said the House will go ahead with other administration bills this week including three measures sponsored by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Knowland listed several bills expected to get Senate consideration while waiting for housing legislation and the tax revision bill to come out of committee.

Among them Knowland listed the Treasury-Post Office appropriation bill, a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18, emergency farm loan provisions, and a measure "to prevent Supreme Court packing in the future."

Rescue Girl, 10, After Floating 10 Miles Down River

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Ten-year-old Darlene Roaten was in satisfactory condition in a hospital today after floating 10 miles down the muddy Mississippi river, clinging to a foot-long piece of cork.

The little girl, her mother and one of her two brothers, none of whom could swim, were swept away by a mid-river current Sunday as they and Darlene's father, J. S. Roaten, pushed their stranded motorboat off a submerged sandbar.

The second brother, Michael, 4, was in the craft which drifted downstream while Roaten swam for two hours before catching up with the runaway boat and rescuing his wife and Bobby Roaten, 8, who had been floating on life preservers.

Boat Grounds on Bar
Darlene was plucked from the murky waters by the towboat Ephraim, out of St. Louis, Sunday night and she, her mother and her brothers were rushed to a hospital here. All were reported to be "satisfactory."

The Roatens were on a Sunday outing when their boat grounded on the bar. All except Michael went over the side to help push the craft free, Mrs. Roaten said.

As the boat swung off the bar, the mother, Darlene and Bobby were caught by a strong current. Roaten tossed them life jackets, then jumped into the river after them, she said.

He finally caught up with the motorboat after swimming for two hours and hauled everyone aboard but Darlene who had disappeared downstream.

Mrs. Wm. F. Martin, 55, Fatally Injured in Crash

Was En Route to Indianapolis to Visit Daughter

Mrs. Mayme Martin, 55, an employee of the Brokerage store here for 18 years, was fatally injured yesterday on a Mother's Day trip to see her daughter.

Mrs. Martin, widow of William L. "Shorty" Martin, was driving alone in her automobile, en route to Indianapolis to visit her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Vance, when the accident occurred on Route 50 seven miles east of Lawrenceville about 8:30 a. m.

Reports of the incident were that Mrs. Martin started to go around a truck and in her attempt a back wheel of her auto went off the pavement. This threw her car in front of a truck, which struck the car, throwing her out of the machine. Mrs. Martin's head hit a concrete abutment.

She was rushed by ambulance to a hospital in Vincennes, Ind., but died in the ambulance before it got there.

The body then was taken to the Gardner Chapel in Vincennes and was brought to Harrisburg by the Harrisburg funeral home, where the body now lies.

Mrs. Martin's husband, a well-known painting contractor here, died Feb. 21, 1952. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Cora Lee Hilliard, who lived with her at 813 North Main street, and two daughters, Mrs. Bonnie Mann at Paducah, Ky., and Mrs. Vance of Indianapolis, and one granddaughter, Shirley Ann Vance. A sister, Mrs. Catherine Whitlock, died in 1948.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church where she was a member. The Rev. S. H. Frazier will officiate, and burial will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Junior High Students Receive 10 Superior Ratings at State Music Contest

The Junior high school music department, under the direction of W. W. Chunn, received ten superior ratings at the state music contest held in Herrin Friday and Saturday. Ensembles receiving a first rating were clarinet quartet: Colleen McKenna, Janet Thompson, Alice Roberts and Sharon Lewis; clarinet duet, Mary Gray and Jerry Barter; clarinet duet, Mickey Stone and William Barnhill; piano duet, Roger Wiley and Michael Foster; flute duet, Nancy Bramlett and Janet Goltzky; flute duet, Patricia Moore and Linda Rude.

Soloists receiving first were, for piano, Patricia Moore, Stanley Sue Lambert, Janet Tanner and Dorris Williams; French horn, Dickie Scott; clarinet solos, Jerry Bar-

Death Takes Mrs. Laura Reese, 80

Mrs. Laura Reese, 80, a retired beauty operator who opened the first shop in Harrisburg 32 years ago, died yesterday at 9 a. m. at her home, 222 West Sixth. She had been ill for the past six months and bedfast for the last two months.

Mrs. Reese, widow of Wallace J. Reese, who died in 1945, attended the Molar School of Beauty Culture in Chicago. She was a member of the Sloan street General Baptist church.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Fay Mayda, a nurse at the Harrisburg hospital. Her only son, Milo M. Pland, by a former marriage, was electrocuted in 1916 at the Muddy Power plant.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Harrisburg funeral chapel. Rev. Glen Daugherty and the Rev. Ned Sutton will conduct the service, and burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Hector Wise Of Carrier Mills Dies

Mrs. Jessie Wise, 34, wife of Hector Wise, Carrier Mills RFD 1, died early Sunday at 5:30 a. m. in the Lightner hospital.

Besides her husband she is survived by three children, Martin, 15, Denzil, 14, and Leoda Sue, 13; a half sister, Mrs. Loveda Broadhurst, Eldorado; and one brother, J. R. Duncan.

Mrs. Wise was born in Illinois and in 1938 married Hector Wise.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Pierson Baptist church. Rev. Clayton Humphrey will officiate, and burial will be in the Pierson cemetery.

The body now lies in state at the Turner funeral home.

Cairo Boy Protests Fireworks Ban in Letter to Castle

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Cecil Upshaw, 13, Cairo, wrote a letter to Atty. Gen. Latham Castle protesting the fireworks prohibition passed by the 1953 Legislature.

"Maybe you think someone will be killed," he said. "So, if that is true how come you don't prohibit the use of automobiles in the state of Illinois? They kill more people in one day than fireworks could do in a year."

Cecil conceded that a person might burn "his or her finger" using fireworks, "but think of the fun they had burning it."

Bi-Partisanship Up to President, Truman Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Truman said today it is up to President Eisenhower to restore bi-partisanship in foreign policy by giving a "clear lead" and by putting a check-rein on "political assassins" in his own party.

He urged Mr. Eisenhower to spell out his foreign policy in "clear cut" terms so Democrats can know what they are called upon to support.

"They cannot know," Mr. Truman said, "if they are subject to a succession of conflicting, vague and confusing statements, proposals and acts."

Mr. Truman's remarks were contained in a speech prepared for delivery before the National Press Club.

He indirectly accused his White House successor of condoning what he called "gutter politics" by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr.

Says President Must Lead
Mr. Truman said the administration is reaping—in the Army-McCarthy hearings—the fruit of its own failure to curb McCarthy.

Mr. Truman did not refer to McCarthy by name, but made it clear he was referring to the Wisconsin senator by referring to McCarthy speeches.

In an obvious reference to the administration's handling of the Indochina crisis, Mr. Truman said "recent events" illustrated his complaint that official pronouncements on U. S. foreign and military policies have been "very confused."

"The President must give the lead," he said. "As one who wishes with all his heart to close ranks, to support and strengthen him upon whom now rests the burden which I once bore, I ask for a fully considered and clear lead, however difficult the path may be."

SIU Players to Present 'Blithe Spirit' At Junior High Tonight

Southern Illinois University Players will present Noel Coward's play, "Blithe Spirit," tonight at 7:30. The Saline County College club is sponsoring the production to be given at the Junior high school auditorium. Admission is 50c for an adult and 25c for a child.

The play was an outstanding hit on the Broadway stage. The SIU Players have had great success with their presentations in this area.

Crime-Buster Heads New Unit Of Justice Dep't

Wm. F. Tompkins In Charge of Fight On Communists, Spies

WASHINGTON (AP)—William F. Tompkins, crack crime-buster from New Jersey, was selected today to head the Justice Department's new Internal Security Division.

The anti-treason unit is charged with broadening and intensifying the administration's legal crackdown on Communists, spies and traitors.

The new setup was described as the most important step in the government's campaign against subversion since the FBI was placed in charge of counter-espionage shortly before World War II.

Tompkins, 41, is now federal district attorney for New Jersey. President Eisenhower was scheduled to send his nomination as assistant attorney general to the Senate today.

Internal security, now a section of the Criminal Division, will be co-equal with other top branches of the department and will take over all cases dealing with subversion. A spokesman said the change is part of the administration's over all plan to broaden and step up anti-subversion work.

War Crimes Prosecutor

The division will be responsible for prosecution of cases under the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to conspire to overthrow the government by violence.

The department spokesman said the Criminal Division has accumulated a backlog of such cases and others involving denaturalization and deportation of aliens suspected as loyalty risks.

Tompkins, of Maplewood, N. J., was a war crimes prosecutor at Singapore after World War II. He will become the eighth assistant attorney general and will represent the Justice Department on the interdepartmental committee on Internal Security.

Tompkins has built up a reputation as a racket-buster since becoming district attorney last June. He got a denaturalization order and income tax indictment against Albert Anastasia, one-time trigger man of Murder, Inc., and prosecuted Harold J. Adonis.

Youth is Turned Over To Commission; Four Placed on Probation

Jackie Endicott, on probation and picked up for breaking into local homes recently, was turned over to the Illinois Youth commission when arraigned before County Judge Ralph W. Choiser on charges of violating his probation.

The commission will determine where he will be incarcerated, and his release will depend upon decision of this group.

Robert Pease, arraigned on a charge of driving while intoxicated, was fined $200 and costs and he was placed on probation for one year.

Joe Woods, 21, and Richard Murphy, 18, Eldorado, John Pulliam, 18, St. Louis, and Claude Miller, 19, Junction, arraigned on petit larceny charges, were placed on probation for one year.

DEDICATE NEW CHURCH AT ELDORADO

Most Rev. Albert R. Zaroweste, D. D., Bishop of the Belleville diocese, is shown solemnly blessing the new St. Mary's church during dedication ceremonies Sunday. The church was filled to overflowing for the ceremonies. Following the dedication of the church Bishop Zaroweste went to Ridgway's St. Joseph church for confirmation services there.

Hoover Observes 30th Anniversary as FBI Director; Has Remarkable Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Edgar Hoover is a generally unsentimental man who has every right to get sentimental today.

Exactly 30 years ago, May 10, 1924, Hoover took over as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The organization he took over then had the lowest morale, the poorest personnel and the worst record of any law enforcement agency in the United States.

Special agents' badges were given to politicians. A theatrical producer got one to bring a girlie show to the capital. Another went to a drunk who stood outside the Justice Department and sang bawdy songs.

Among the regular agents were ex-convicts with long police records. Others were political appointees basking in patronage.

Hoover, then only 29, got the go-ahead from the late Harlan Stone, at that time the new attorney general, to clean up the FBI. Hoover took Stone at his word. He not only cleaned, he fumigated.

Spectacular Results

He fired the ex-convicts immediately.

Plan Compulsory Duty to Bolster Reserve Units

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has decided that compulsory reserve duty, including a variation of universal military training, is needed to bolster the sagging reserve program, it was learned today.

Compulsory reserve duty after completion of active military service is the key feature of a drastic overhaul of the reserve program due to be proposed to Congress shortly.

Hugh M. Milton, assistant Army secretary in charge of manpower, told a reporter that after months of study the conclusion has been reached that only through mandatory service can the reserves be kept in fighting readiness.

Two plans of compulsory reserve service were said to have been drawn up:

1. Two weeks of annual duty with a National Guard or Army Reserve unit for veterans who have completed two years service.

Endorsed By Wilson

2. Selection of a certain number of draftees who would receive four months basic training and then be required to serve in organized reserve units for seven years and eight months. If they failed to participate in the reserve, the men would be drafted back into the Army to serve out their two-year term.

While Defense Secretary Charles M. Wilson has not given specific approval to the plans, he is said to have endorsed them in principle. The proposals are now being studied by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and are due to be presented to the National Security Council and the Senate Armed Services Committee shortly, perhaps this week.

The plans are an outgrowth of the President's conclusion in January, based on an Office of Defense Mobilization study, that the present reserve system is inadequate. On orders from the President, the Defense Department has drawn up a blueprint drastically overhauling the entire reserve program.

HTHS Band, Choir, Orchestra to Present Concert Tonight

The band, orchestra and choir of the Harrisburg Township high school will present a short concert tonight at 8 o'clock in the Bonnell gymnasium.

During the concert, the annual Arion award, national award presented to the outstanding senior music student, will be presented by a representative of the local Rotary club which provides the medal. The winner was selected by vote of all those in the music department, and the name will not be announced until the award is made tonight.

There will be no charge for admission to the concert.

All Raleigh Music Contestants Win First In State Contest

All entries from the Raleigh grade school won first place ratings at the State Music contest held at Herrin last Friday.

Ramonna Gaddis, who entered in piano, won a first superior rating. Other first place winners were David Duncan, who played a trumpet solo, Ramonna Gaddis and Maxine Downey, who played a clarinet and flute duet, and Sandra Busler and Barbara Ecklund, who played a clarinet duet.

Accompanists were Cynthia Baker, Sandra Busler, and Ramonna Gaddis. The music director at Raleigh is Mrs. Pruett Hart, who has entered the school in music contests for the past three years.

Two Airmen Killed In Heaton Crash

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—A head-on collision between a car and semi-trailer truck near here Sunday resulted in the death of two Air Force men.

John W. Freeman, 19, Alton, Ill., was killed and Elbert T. Brown, 18, Spartanburg, S. C., died later in a hospital here.

Robert L. Pase, 18, Milford, Del., was taken to Scott Air Force base hospital with serious injuries.

Freeman, Brown and Pase, stationed at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Miss., were believed en route back to the base.

Truck Driver Duane Hill, Tama, Iowa, escaped injury but a passenger in the truck, Wiley Oakly, 23, St. Louis, was injured.

Delay Decision Until After Secret Session

McCarthy Agrees, Army, Democrats Object to Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators debated proposals for curtailing the Army-McCarthy hearings but put off any decision until after a secret session later today.

Pending decision on future procedure, Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens was recalled to the witness chair for further cross-examination by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.). It was Stevens' 13th day on the witness stand.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) proposed that the public, televised sessions be called off after McCarthy testifies. Under his plan, McCarthy would follow Stevens to the witness chair, and any witnesses after McCarthy would be heard behind closed doors.

McCarthy first objected, but then agreed to go along on condition that a time limit be put on the closed sessions.

The Army objected and stood firm in its dissent. Democratic members of the investigating subcommittee also objected to putting the hearings "under the rug"—as Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) referred to the proposal for secret sessions later.

After nearly an hour of talk, acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) declared the motion was not before the group for decision because it lacked a second.

At Dirksen's request, however, Mundt called a closed session to discuss it further.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), insisting that the subcommittee vote in public, said he reserved the right to offer a substitute motion. Mundt agreed that any action would be "confirmed" before the television cameras in the hearing room.

McClellan, senior Democrat on the subcommittee, told reporters before he went into the closed meeting that he believes any witness—including McCarthy—could be disposed of in two days if all concerned would cooperate.

"No witness should be kept on the stand longer than necessary to get the facts," he said.

But McClellan said "I will agree to nothing that precludes any testimony that I think necessary to do justice."

Mundt said the subcommittee should try for "a meeting of minds" before committing itself to another three or four weeks of hearings.

Sen. Henry C. Dworshak (R-Ida.) asserted "we should not continue indefinitely this public spectacle which diverts members of the committee and officials of the department from more important duties."

McCarthy objected to the original form of the Dirksen plan because, he said, if no cutoff provision were made for the proposed closed sessions the hearings might keep going all summer.

Dirksen indicated he would change his proposal before the afternoon closed session.

McCarthy said he favored anything that would shorten the hearings so the senate investigations subcommittee, which he normally heads, could get back to its other work.

McCarthy said unfinished work of the subcommittee included finding Communists in defense plants and an investigation of "fraud in Alaska."

The Burning Issue

A House Big Enough
By Gudren Olson
Copyright 1954 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Sensing that Mrs.
Signe Dahlstrom does not approve of her son's marriage, Lenny, Tom's bride a few days, watches her mother-in-law closely. But there is no sign of warmth, and instead there are hints that Mrs. Dahlstrom is disappointed that Tom did not marry Astrid Nelson, the girl of whom the mother approved.

III
Elaine started to follow Tom, but something made her linger at the door. She wanted to find words to thank her new mother-in-law for giving up her room to her son and his wife.

Mrs. Signe Dahlstrom seemed not to notice that Elaine was still there. The sound of the spoon grating around the edges of the pot scratched on Elaine's ears. Yet when it ceased, the silence was more irritating.

But Elaine's heart pounded and there was a constriction in her throat so that her lips could not form the proper words of thanks.
Still, Elaine felt compelled to stand there in the doorway.

Tom returned shortly, dressed in overalls. Kissing Elaine lightly on the forehead, he said, "Our room is at the head of the stairs.
You can't miss it. I couldn't wait for you to come up. It's hard to keep a good hired man these days, so I've got to get down to the barn and help Bill Steen with the chores."

The door closed behind him and she was left alone with her mother-in-law and silence again.

Bustling around the kitchen, Mrs.
Dahlstrom apparently paid no attention to her new daughter. Yet Elaine was conscious from time to time of her covert glance. A sort of helpless inertia kept Elaine standing in the kitchen door, wondering what she should say or do, wishing she could rid herself of this dreary feeling of forbidding.

She watched Mrs. Dahlstrom drag on the handle of an immense flour bin in the lower cupboard.
Leaning over, she carefully sifted flour into a large, white cup. She tossed the scoop back into the bin.
Suddenly, without warning, the bin crashed shut, catching her right thumb.

"My goodness!" Elaine cried, springing forward. Surprisingly, Mrs. Dahlstrom permitted herself to be drawn over to the sink, where Elaine flicked on the faucet and held the bleeding thumb under the cold water.

"It's not cut badly," Elaine said.
Mrs. Dahlstrom frowned at her hand and the pink-tinged water swirling around the drain.
"Serves me right. I wasn't watching what I was doing."

Flinging her suit jacket on the nearest chair, Elaine said, "Do you have some adhesive tape and bandage?" When she had finished, she was astonished and quite pleased with the ease with which she had stopped the bleeding and neatly bound the injured finger.

Sighing with relief, Elaine repeated, "It's not serious, Mrs.
Dahlstrom. The unspoken syllable caught in her throat. She bit her lip until it hurt. Then she cleared her throat and forced herself to continue, "I know it's painful,

Reds Reject
French Plan
For Armistice

GENEVA (UP)—The Communists today rejected a French plan for an Indochina armistice based on Red troop withdrawals.

The Communists demanded instead an immediate cease-fire with their powerful armies remaining in their present positions.

The Communist Viet Minh President, Phan Van Dong, also asked the withdrawal of all foreign troops.
He demanded an immediate halt to all foreign military aid to the French in Indochina.

He proposed eventual communist style "free elections" for Indochina.
Under the Red proposal, the Communist Viet Minh armies—supplied by Russia and Red China—and the Communist underground of armed cells would stay where they are when hostilities ended.

The immediate Western reaction was that the Communist plan was designed to permit a Communist seizure of the country at the convenience of the Reds.

The West won one belated concession from the Communists.
The Red Viet Minh agreed to the evacuation of "seriously wounded"
French Union forces from the shattered north Indochinese fortress of Dien Bien Phu. It was overrun and conquered Friday by Communist forces while the French awaited a response to their plea for a "mercy truce" to permit removal of wounded.

though. If you'll tell me what to do I'll finish getting supper."

The older woman contemplated her right hand. Finally, with obvious unwillingness, she said, "If you'll take care of the meat please,
I think that's all that needs attention." Opening a cupboard drawer with her left hand, she took out an apron. Holding it out, she said,
"I don't think you'll ever grow into this!"

Taking the apron, Elaine smiled her thanks. She began to shape the tiny meatballs and drop them into the sputtering skillet.

As she worked, the thought came to Elaine that this was the first time she had ever helped prepare a meal for Tom. Her husband.

Her husband. What a beautiful sound the words had. Slowly, a pleasant, almost tranquil feeling came to her.

A man as wonderful as Tom would have to have a pretty fine mother, Elaine told herself. And it was understandable why Mrs.
Dahlstrom acted a little strained.
The feeling perhaps was the same with her as with Elaine. Almost any mother would act the same under the circumstances.

It was up to Elaine, really. She was the intruder. First, she must win Mrs. Dahlstrom's respect.

When she finished setting the table, Mrs. Dahlstrom sat down on the high stool by her work-table. Elaine could feel her blue eyes studying her intently as she carefully rolled each meatball over.
At last, Mrs. Dahlstrom broke the silence. "I haven't seen you since you went away to college." Then she added accusingly, "You're Clem Allen's daughter."

Elaine's heart twisted up in her throat. For a moment her voice was locked inside her. Finally, she said, "Yes, Clem Allen was my father." She dared not take her eyes from the frying pan before her, but there was no point in pretending she didn't know something of Mrs. Dahlstrom's past.
"You knew him quite well, didn't you?"

In a subdued voice, Mrs. Dahlstrom admitted the truth. "Yes,
I knew your father. A handsome Irishman." She paused. Then her voice became louder. Elaine sensed a defensiveness. "That was before I became serious about Mr.
Dahlstrom."

When Elaine made no response, she added, "I never knew your mother very well, however." There was a peculiar ring in her voice, a quality almost of regret and sympathy for Elaine.

Elaine turned and looked at her.
Was sympathy really shadowed in those large blue eyes? Could this woman really feel sympathy for someone who intruded her home?

Uncle Sam Seeks Million New Savings Bond Buyers

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A drive to sell an additional billion dollars' worth of U. S. savings bonds in 1954 has been announced by Earl O. Shreve, national director for this Treasury program.

Sales in 1952 were $2.6 billion and in 1953 they were $4.4 billion. The new campaign is shooting at a $5.5 billion figure.

The idea is to add another million savings bond purchasers to the eight million customers already buying bonds through regular payroll deductions. Also, an attempt will be made to interest purchasers in buying bonds of larger denominations.

Experience shows that the $25
bonds cost the Treasury about $6 million a year to handle. While they account for 68 per cent of the paperwork in the savings bond division, these smaller bonds bring in only 27 per cent of the bond revenue.

THE TROUBLE SEEMS to be that too many purchasers regard the $25 bonds as much like money.
More $25 bonds are cashed in after being held only a short time than is the case with the $100 bonds. Savings bond experts now figure that if more people bought $100's, they would hang on to them longer.

To make the $100 bonds more attractive, the Treasury is now planning to "average date" their purchase. Thus if a purchaser had $5 a week deducted from his pay check towards purchase of a $100 bond, it would start drawing interest at the end of the tenth week, when it was half paid for. Under previous regulations, $100 bonds were dated only when the final payment was made.

W. Randolph Burgess, Deputy Secretary of the Treasury in charge of all government financing programs and the national debt, says there is nothing inconsistent about promoting the sales of savings bonds in this period of business recession.

WHILE THERE HAS been much agitation to increase consumer spending at all levels, to curb the effects of the recession, Mr. Burgess points out that $5 a year going into savings bond purchases represents less than 2 per cent of the national income. Also, he says it's good business for anyone to save as much money as he can,

any time.

As for what might happen if the economic situation got so bad that savings bond holders cashed in heavily, Mr. Burgess says only that so far there hasn't been enough depression to shake them out.

Total savings bond holdings as of Jan. 31, 1954, were 36.8 billion
— the highest amount on record since the end of the war. This figure includes $36.1 billion of the popular Series E bonds and $700 million of the Series H bonds which pay interest regularly from the time of purchase instead of at the time of redemption or at maturity.

H BONDS HAVE been on the market only since June, 1952. They are proving more attractive to older savings bond purchasers, who may not have ten years to live before E bonds mature. A plan is now under consideration to sell H bonds on the installment plan.

One of the more encouraging factors to Treasury officials is that so many holders of matured bonds are hanging onto them. About $10 billion worth of savings bonds purchased in wartime have now matured. But only a fourth of them have been cashed in.

The total amount of Series E and H savings bonds now outstanding—$36.7 billion worth—represents 13 per cent of the U. S. national debt. Treasury officials would like to see this percentage raised. The purpose is to get as

Phillips 66 presents the first All-Weather Motor Oil which has proved it meets the most exacting standard ever established for automobile lubrication...
Mil-O-2104, Supplement 1 level.

THE toughest standard ever set up for automobile lubrication is the Mil-O-2104 Supplement 1 test.
New TROP-ARTIC is the first all-weather motor oil to meet the requirements of this test. It is an oil which will serve you winter and summer... an oil so good it can double the life of an automobile engine!

Compared to ordinary motor oils, new TROP-ARTIC reduces ring wear 40% or more. It cuts oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons and bearings cleaner... longer-lasting. It saves you money by increasing gasoline mileage. This has been demonstrated in tests representing over 150,000 miles of driving.

TROP-ARTIC is truly an all-weather oil... S.A.E.
10W through S.A.E. 30. Therefore it flows instantly for easy starting at sub-zero temperatures, and yet it retains the film strength necessary to prevent engine wear under high temperature driving conditions. It isn't just heavy duty. It's double duty.

Any car, in any climate, at any time of the year will perform better with Phillips 66 TROP-ARTIC. It is a worthy companion to Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL, the new high performance gasoline recently introduced by Phillips. This year of all years it pays to stop at the station where you see the Phillips 66 Shield.

SIU to Confer Honorary Doctor of Law Degrees on Dr. Morey, Maj. Gen. Hodge

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Dr. Lloyd Morey, president of the University of Illinois, and Maj. Gen. John Hodge, former commander of Army Field Forces, will receive honorary Doctor of Laws degrees from Southern Illinois university at commencement exercises in June. Hodge, now retired, is a native of Golconda, Ill., and an SIU alumnus who now lives at Fayetteville, N. C.

Southern's board of trustees also has voted to give Distinguished Service Awards at the June 13 commencement to Dr. Andy Hall, 89, who has been a physician at Mt. Vernon for 64 years; Kent E. Keller of Ava, a congressman for 10 years, and Mrs. Ella K. Moseley of Metropolis, the 1954 Illinois "Mother of the Year." The awards for Southern Illinoisians who have rendered great service to the area were initiated by SIU last year.

Dr. Morey, the first University of Illinois alumnus to become president of that institution, has had a distinguished career as a University comptroller and as a consultant on educational finances, a post that he once held with the U. S. Office of Education.

Gen. Hodge served in three wars, receiving his commission in 1917 and attaining the permanent rank of major general in 1948. He was commander of U. S. Army forces in Korea from 1945 to 1948, and commander of the Third Army in 1950-52. He then served as chief of Army Field Forces until his retirement in June, 1953.

The board of trustees voted the degrees and awards on the recommendations of the Faculty Committee on Honorary Degrees and the endorsement of SIU administrative officers.

Dr. Andy Hall, one time mayor of Mt. Vernon and founder of the Jefferson County Historical Society, was named "general practitioner of the year" by the American Medical Association in 1950. He was the third physician to receive the gold medal award.

Kent Keller was founder of the Ava Community High School and a teacher there. As a member of the Illinois senate for four years and the U. S. House of Representatives for a decade, he led the efforts for creation of Crab Orchard Lake, now one of the outstanding scenic attractions of Southern Illinois.

Mrs. Moseley is the mother of four children, one of whom was killed in the Battle of the Java Sea in 1952. She has been president of the 24th district, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, and chairman of the Massac County Republican Central Committee.

Previous recipients of the SIU Distinguished Service Awards have been Senator R. G. Crisberry, Murphysboro; Representative Paul Powell, Vienna; General Robert Davis, Carbondale; and O. W. Lyerla, Herrin.

HANOI, Indochina — "Important" Chinese Communist infantry units and a Chinese artillery regiment found along with rebel Indochinese victors of Dien Bien Phu, informed French military sources said today.

Particularly well-informed military leaders said the addition of these Chinese units turned the tide of battle.

Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, commander of the fallen fortress who was identified by Communist radio for the first time today as a captive of the situation at Dien Bien Phu but on the eve of the final fight believed he could hold.

Military sources said the final Red attack was carried out in "pure Chinese" style and that it was the addition of these Chinese forces which toppled the fortress Friday afternoon.

No Mention of Nurse
Gen. Henri Navarre, French supreme commander in Indochina, charged in his press conference Saturday that the Red Chinese had an anti-aircraft regiment at Dien Bien Phu but made no mention of other units.

It was the deadly anti-aircraft and artillery fire that made the main airstrip unusable during the final weeks of fighting.

A Communist broadcast said De Castries and 8,000 of his men were taken alive as prisoners after the fall of the bastion. The French-monitored broadcast did not account for the fate of the remaining 3,000 defenders.

On the last day of battle, the gallant De Castries' garrison was being defended by a force of 11,000 men.

No mention was made of any other individual member of the garrison, including the 29-year-old "angel of Dien Bien Phu," Nurse Genevieve de Galard-Terraube, for whom public prayers were said in many French churches Sunday.

Employees End Wildcat Strike At Herrin Plant

HERRIN, Ill. — Allen Industries' rug cushion division here was back in full production today after 200 employees ended an eight day "wildcat" strike.

Work started Sunday night on the first shift of the work week. The workers voted by secret ballot Friday afternoon to end the walkout which began April 30 following suspension of two United Mine Workers local 13648 officials.

The officials were suspended by the company for allegedly leading walkouts by the evening shift workers April 28 and 29.

Officials of the United Mine Workers District 50 said the strike was unauthorized and urged the workers to return to their jobs.

Grover Duty, regional UMW director, said the first walkouts resulted from "misunderstandings" about a new incentive plan. Stanley Holtzman, Allen plant manager, said grievances filed on the suspension of two local union officials would be processed starting today.

Two Eldorado Men, Shawneetown Man Have Drivers' Licenses Revoked

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today announced the revocation of driver's licenses of two Eldorado residents and one resident of Shawneetown because of driving convictions.

Losing their driver's licenses were John Henry White and Fred L. Falk of Eldorado and Blufford W. Logsdon of Shawneetown.

Former Equality Man Dies at Flora

Frank Patton, 63, former resident of Equality, died at his home in Flora following a heart attack.

He is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Bratcher Patton, RFD 2, Mrs. Elvira Potter, Equality, Mrs. Granville Williams, Harrisburg, and Mrs. Mary Woods, Alton.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. in Flora.

Joseph Priestly, English chemist, discovered that the gum from certain trees would rub out pencil marks, giving rubber its name.

Enfield Wins Sectional FFA Stock, Grain Judging Contest at Eldorado

Eldorado Township high school was host Friday to the annual stock and grain judging contest of section 25, Future Farmers of America, with FFA students representing the agriculture departments of twenty southern Illinois high schools present.

Enfield won the team trophy and an Eldorado student, David Coontz, was the individual top scorer.

The host school, Eldorado, had won the team trophy the three previous years, but dropped to fourth position this year. This marked the first time in the school's history that Enfield had won the championship trophy.

A very few points separated the first five teams, it was said, with the schools finishing in the following order: Enfield, Johnston City, Shawneetown, Eldorado, McLeansboro, Marion, Norris City, Ridgeway.

Cave-in Rock, Goreville, Equality, Vienna, Harrisburg, Herrin, Metropolis, Galatia, Carmi, Golconda, Rosiclare, and Dahlgren.

Coontz, a freshman at Eldorado township high, in taking top individual honors in the fat stock judging, scored 568 2-10 points of a possible 600. He was awarded a blue ribbon medal.

Stock for the contest was made possible by Oscar Stinson, A. A. Gholson, Roy Smith, Ramey Spencer, Guy Whipple and Layman Jones, all of Eldorado community.

Five Local Students Win Honors at U. of I.

Five Harrisburg Township high school graduates and two who were graduated from Eldorado high school were among the 1,871 outstanding University of Illinois students honored for scholarship recently at the state university.

They were: Harrisburg: Clyde Fife Jr., Helen R. Hine, Ronald N. Lee, Stanley L. Paul, Donna G. Sauer. Eldorado: Harry E. Melton and Virgil L. Molinarolo.

Discount Report

Of Any Plot to Kill President

WASHINGTON — Authorities today discounted a reported plot to assassinate President Eisenhower on his visit Sunday to the grave of George Washington's mother.

Extra precautions were taken but only a heavy rain marred the weather-laying at the base of a 50-foot granite shaft over the grave of Mary Hall Washington at Fredericksburg, Va.

Secret Service Chief E. U. Baughman said his agents checked the alleged plot, reported to Fredericksburg police by an "informant," and found nothing to verify it.

Fredericksburg Police Superintendent A. G. Kendall said he now discredits the information given Saturday night by a Negro who previously had been considered "reliable." Kendall said the informant claimed to have been offered $500 by a man and woman whom he took to be Puerto Ricans, "because of their language."

Mr. Eisenhower stopped at the Mary Washington grave while returning back from Richmond where he had attended Mother's Day services at historic St. Paul's Episcopal Church — worshiping place of Confederate President Jefferson Davis and Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Ex-AF Officer Goes On Trial on Bribe Charges

DANVILLE, Ill. — A former Air Force officer went on trial today in federal court on charges he bribed a Scott Air Force Base sergeant to alter his medical records.

Reserve Lt. Leonard W. Jarosz, Pontiac, Mich., pleaded innocent to the charge he gave $300 to former Sgt. Luther Bradley in August, 1951.

Asst. U. S. Atty. John Morgan Jones told the jury in opening arguments that Jarosz gave the money to Bradley and then was rejected for recall to duty at Scott Air Force Base. Jones said Bradley later asked for more money but Jarosz refused.

Defense Attorney Leo Burke said Jarosz knew nothing about the bribe, that he reported to the base for duty, was rejected, and went home.

Bradley has served a two-year term in connection with other bribes and is now free. Six other officers were fined $200 to $300 on guilty pleas to bribery charges.

France in 1953 produced just over 60 million net tons of coal, an amount produced by U. S. miners in about two months.

4,000 Attend Fifth Annual SIU Music Festival

CARBONDALE, Ill. — About 4,000 persons braved chilly air and the threat of rain Saturday night at the fifth annual Southern Illinois Music Festival.

Metropolitan Opera contralto Jean Madeira, a native of Southern Illinois, was the "honored soloist" on the program in McAndrew Stadium at Southern Illinois university.

Bernard Miller of Belleville was the festival's "honored musician." Nearly 3,000 elementary and high school students from 39 communities made up the choruses and bands which presented most of the program.

Shirley Yount, 18-year-old Centralia soprano, sang the aria which won her top honors in the Southern Illinois music contest earlier in the day.

Miss Yount, four other vocalists and six pianists from Southern Illinois will compete in the Chicago and Red Bud Drum and Bugle Corps.

Also on the program were the Marysboro High School band and Red Bud Drum and Bugle Corps.

Sen. Kefauver Hits GOP Foreign Policy; Democrats Ask Bipartisan Cooperation

WASHINGTON — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today American world leadership has sunk low because of the "irresponsibility" and "vacillation" of the Republican administration.

Pointing to the French loss of Dien Bien Phu in Indochina and American "reverses" at the Geneva conference, the Tennessee Democrat said in a Senate speech: "In the space of less than two years we have witnessed the decline of American leadership of free world forces. It is now at the lowest point since the day the United States entered World War II."

Kefauver joined other Democrats demanding the "fullest re-examination" of U. S. foreign policy and closer bipartisan cooperation.

Sen. George A. Smathers (D. Fla.) said the Indochina crisis has shown that France and Great Britain can no longer be counted upon as U. S. partners against Communist aggression.

From the other side of the Senate aisle came a warning from Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.) that U. S. military intervention in Indochina would be "hopeless" without the active support of the Indo-chinese.

Plan United Front
Secretary of State John Foster Dulles met with other diplomatic envoys on plans for building a united front in southeast Asia. And President Eisenhower met with Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Smathers' earlier speech was typical of the increased Democratic attacks on administration foreign policy.

The Florida Democrat declared in a prepared Senate speech that the two long-time allies showed their unreliability when they failed to back America's strategy in Indochina at the Geneva Conference.

"Developments at Geneva," he said, "give it some of the awesome aspects of a Munich and are a shuddering reminder of the harvest of a historic effort to keep peace in our time by making a deal with the power-hungry, power-mad total tyrant."

Caroline Faces Army Draft

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—J. C. Caroline, the Columbia Negro youth who rewrote Big Ten rushing records as a sophomore at the University of Illinois last fall, may be drafted before the 1954 season. Selective Service records showed today.

Classifications posted at Richmond County draft board No. 40 here showed that Caroline was reclassified from 1-A to 1-SC on April 28. That means he will be deferred until the end of the academic year.

Caroline, who went from Booker T. Washington high school here to All-America fame at Illinois in his first year of varsity football, apparently had been reclassified 1-A earlier this year after running into scholastic difficulty.

He was reportedly dropped from a ROTC unit at the Champaign, Ill., school after he fell behind in his studies, and Col. James Hunter, South Carolina director of selective service, said persons dropped from college ROTC units were automatically classified 1-A.

However, the 1-SC classification two weeks ago means Caroline is at present maintaining passing grades and cannot be called for induction until the end of the academic year.

Since he is a sophomore, Caroline would be eligible for classification 2-S, should he complete the year in the upper two-thirds of his class. This would make him eligible for further deferment.

However, a draft board spokesman said even if Caroline were classified 1-A, that would "not indicate" that he would definitely be inducted into the Armed Forces. His case would be considered on its merits for possible additional deferment.

Last fall, Caroline and another Negro halfback, Mickey Bates, teamed to propel the Illini to a Big Ten title. Caroline arched the Big Ten single season rushing record set a quarter of a century ago by Red Grange.

Questions concerning Caroline's eligibility arose Saturday when he was not in uniform as the Illini wound up spring football drills with the annual intra-squad game.

Caroline Fails To Show Up for Inter-Squad Game

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Ray Eliot, University of Illinois football coach, said that his star halfback, J. C. Caroline, has been studying so hard to maintain his eligibility that he didn't show up for the intra-squad game marking the end of spring practice Saturday. The game ended in a 13-13 tie.

Eliot didn't seem too concerned over reports that his sensational halfback was in jeopardy because his grades were slipping.

"J. C. has just been studying extra hard and that's the reason he couldn't play Saturday," Eliot said.

He said that he thought Caroline "would be all right" with his professors by the time the Big Ten season opens next fall.

Dean Fred Turner said, "I can't see that Caroline is in any particular trouble with his grades."

There was no way, Turner said, of telling what the scholastic status of Caroline or any other athlete would be before the end of the semester.

Scharlau Beats Snead in Playoff Of Greenbrier Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Sammy Snead's blowup on a 15-inch putt, one of the oldest stories in golf, proved a $2,000 windfall today to Herman Scharlau of Boca Raton, Fla., one of the newest names on the big-time tournament circuit.

Scharlau, a 33-year-old who had never won a major tournament before, captured the Greenbrier Open title and the $2,000 first prize that goes with it when he beat Snead, the home pro, Sunday on the third hole of a sudden death playoff.

The playoff was ordered immediately after Scharlau, Snead and Jackie Burke Jr. of Kiamnesia Lake, N. Y., each wound up with identical 274s for 72 holes.

Snead took $1,000 for finishing second while Burke earned $700 for third place.

Veterans George Fazio of Pine Valley, N. J., and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., were tied for fourth place with 275s.

ELDER STATESMEN—Another old pro, Marv Grissom, left, 36, has taken his place alongside Sal Maglie, 37, the Giants' pitching leader. (NEA)

Stock Car Driver Receives Chest Injuries in Races Here

First accident which sent a driver to a hospital bed in the three years the Illinois-Missouri Stock Car Racing association has conducted auto races at the Saline county fairgrounds occurred Saturday night.

Nathan Anthony of Waltonville, near Mt. Vernon, remained in Lightner hospital today with chest injuries received when his car flipped on the curve just as the race had ended and his upset car was bumped into by another.

This accident occurred in the semi-feature, an 11-car affair and Anthony, driving the B-36, had just finished third and went into the curve past the finish line with the other machines. There his car overturned and he didn't get out.

An ambulance was rushed to the scene and the driver, who was complaining of his chest was placed on a stretcher and rushed to the hospital.

The feature race was won by the No. 5, driven by Cliff Rolland of Mt. Vernon, who also had the best time in the trials, 17.75 seconds. The 702, with Bob Fletcher of Harrisburg driving, was second, the 97, with Glenn Gibbs of Harrisburg behind the wheel, was third, and Charlie Tate of Carbondale in the K-38 was fourth.

The night was cold but the racing was hot Saturday night, the opening night of stock car racing. Twenty cars, plenty of them fast, judging by the time trial marks, were on hand for the evening.

The semi-feature was won by the K-38 and Tate, with the 7B-Jr. and Leonard Grisham second and the B-36 with Anthony driving third.

In a handicap event, which was a race featuring the six fastest cars on the grounds, Rolland in the No. 5 was first, Howard Meacham of Grand Tower in the E-37 was second and Bobby Bain of Carbondale in the 98 was third.

Results of the four heat races:

Heat I: No. 5, Rolland, first; 98, Bain, second; K-38, Tate, third.

Heat II: E-37, Meacham, first; BM-36, Bob McMillen of Herrin, second; P-38, Jerry Brinkley of Equality, third.

Heat III: B-36, Anthony, first; 805, Teddy Tedrow, second; Bill Hosick, third.

Heat IV: 702, Fletcher, first; 7B-Jr., Grisham, second; 97, Gibbs, third.

Nash Loses 3-1 Decision to Clay, Ky., Nine

The Nash baseball club travelled to Clay, Ky., Sunday and lost a close decision, 3-1, to the Clay Legion team.

It was a well played game, but two errors allowed Clay to score the deciding tallies. Roark started for Nash and pitched good ball for seven innings in which he allowed six hits and one earned run, the other two markers being unearned. Roark struck out two and walked five.

Elleser, a strong right hander with a good fast ball and sweeping curve, went the distance for Clay, giving up but four hits, retiring 11 on strikes and walking two. The Clay club is the same team that has played in Harrisburg several times under the name of the Evansville Orkin Exterminators.

Ronnie Ziegler paced Nash at bat with two hits in four tries, including a homer. Karnes and Sisky had the other two hits for Nash. Owens was top hitter for Clay with a triple and single. Others in the hit column were Wilmas, Thompson, Holland, and Grossman.

Nash put up a good battle and has been invited to play at Clay again later in the season.

Next Sunday Nash will travel to Corydon, Ky., the team featuring Jim Wallace on the mound. Wallace pitched a couple of seasons with the Evansville Braves in the Three I league.

5 New Records In Big 10 Track And Field Relays

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois, Michigan and Indiana set five Memorial Stadium records during the weekend in the first Big Ten track and field relays.

Illinois dominated team events with Michigan placing second. There was no team scoring or team championship involved in the meet. Illinois won three relays, posting stadium records in the 440 and sprint medley and winning the mile relay.

A 41.8 clocking gave Illinois the victory in the 440-yard relay. The record was posted by Jim Nagle, Joe Corley, Cirilo McSweeney and Willie Williams.

Ralph Fessenden, Gene Maynard, and Corley and Williams teamed up to give the Illini a record 3:25 victory over Wisconsin in the sprint medley. McSweeney, Corley, Maynard and Fessenden gave the Illini the mile relay crown in 3:15.8.

Michigan took two relay victories, setting stadium records in both. Roy Christiansen, John Moule, John Ross and Pete Gray did the two mile in 7:39.

The Wolverines scored again in the distance medley as Bob Rude-sill, George Lynch and Gray and Ross beat out Indiana in the record time of 10:10.

Indiana combined Mike Cusick, Lennie Robinson, Fred Watson and Ed Hampton for a record-breaking 1:26.6 performance in the 880-yard relay.

Willard Thompson, Illinois' Big Ten hurdles champion, turned in the individual performance of the day as he set a stadium record of 1:40 in the 120-yard high hurdles trial and won the event in 1:42. He captured the 220-yard low hurdles in 22.7, a tenth of a second over the record.

Gene Matthews of Purdue finished the 1 1/2 mile run in 6:50.9 to set a new individual mark in the stadium records.

Merchants Drop 10 to 6 Tilt to Carterville Stars

Eddie Rice threw a four-hitter at the Harrisburg Merchants Sunday afternoon while his Carterville teammates clobbered Kennedy and Malone for 14 hits and a 10-6 victory in a game played on the township park diamond.

The locals went into the final frame with a 6-3 lead, and for the second straight game, the pitching and defense folded. Buzz Kennedy started for the Merchants but yielded to Malone in the third. Malone threw a creditable game until the ninth. In this frame the visitors picked up six safeties while the inner defense floundered helplessly and Carterville raced seven runs across pay dirt.

Carterville took a one run lead in the first on a single and two errors only to have the locals knot the game in their half on a walk, an error, and a stolen base. The visitors then forged ahead two runs in the third stanza on three safeties and a pair of passes. The Merchants then had Rice on the ropes in the fourth as five runs crossed the plate as the visitors defense had a temporary relapse. That was all the Merchants could do with the young curveballer, who hurled five straight hitless innings.

Ethridge gathered three hits to lead the Stars while Freddie Williams Tom Dunbar, Romonosky and Malone had the only Merchant hits. Farley was behind the plate for the Stars and Romonosky for the locals. Henry Winkelman was the umpire-in-chief.

John Wells Wins Sports Achievement Award at Park College

John Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wells, 912 South Granger street, was recognized for achievement in the field of sports at Park college, Parkville, Mo., at an annual sports award dinner Friday on the campus.

Wells was awarded a Park jacket for his participation in the college sports program. Awards went to 15 men and nine women.

Stan Musial Hits His 10th Homer as Cardinals, Reds Split; Cubs Top Braves, 5-3

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

Maybe the home run title Stan Musial once missed because of an umpire's questionable decision will go to the "Man" at last this year, Wilmer Shantz, rookie catcher, hit a grand slam homer for the As.

In the second game, ex-Yankee Bill Renna kept Alex Kellner in front with a homer until the Yankees tied it in the eighth on Bill Skowron's timely single.

An error by George Strickland on Neil Berry's grounder, Turley's sacrifice, and infield out and Gil Coan's single gave Baltimore the run it needed to end a five-game losing streak.

Sunday's star: Stan Musial of the Cardinals who hit his 10th homer and got five hits for the day, taking over the NL batting lead at .382 as St. Louis beat Cincinnati, 10-7, then lost, 6-5.

Of all the laurels, though, he would like to get another shot at that homer title because he missed sharing it in 1948 when he hit 39 and should have been credited with another that he blasted in Philadelphia.

Musial hit his 10th homer Sunday with two on to highlight a seven-run inning as the Cardinals walloped Cincinnati, 10-7, and he added two singles, batting in four runs. But Cincinnati rebounded to win the second game, 6-5, as another home run late in the night, Ted Kluszewski, hit two and made it three for the day. Musial got a double and single in the second game, as Solly Hemus and pitcher Ellis Deal homered in a losing cause. Del Rice of the Cardinals and Jim Greengrass of Cincy also hit first game homers.

Erskine Shades Roberts

Sauer blasted his 10th and Kiner also got one as the Cubs topped Warren Spahn, 5-3 at Milwaukee, while Brooklyn defeated the Phils 2-1 as Carl Erskine shaded Robin Roberts in a duel. The Giants topped Pittsburgh 5-1. The pace-setting Tigers defeated the White Sox in 11 innings, 3-2, then battled to a 0-0 10-inning darkness tie in the American league, while the Yankees won, 7-4, from Philadelphia, then played a 1-1 ninth inning tie. Bob Turley, the Baltimore Bullet, pitched a four-hitter for a 10-inning 2-1 win over Cleveland and the Red Sox-Washington double bill was rained out at Boston.

Bob Rush struck out six and scattered eight hits in winning his second game for the Cubs while Erskine, though giving up nine walks, was helped by five double plays in his triumph over Roberts. Doubles by Duke Snider and Sandy Amoros and a single by Billy Cox gave Brooklyn its runs.

Sal Maglie became the first NL pitcher to win five games when he pitched a six-hitter to hand Pittsburgh its fifth straight defeat. Willie Mays with a two-run triple and Al Dark with a double and two singles paced the hitters.

Gromek Wins 5th Game

Dark horse Detroit made it two straight over Chicago with its opening victory, the fifth for older Steve Gromek without a loss. It came when Cass Michaels erred after a single by Frank House and two walks loaded the bases. Harvey Kuenn and Hase scored. In the second game, Billy Pierce struck out 12 for Chicago and Billy Hoof whiffed seven in a fine south-paw duel. Pierce gave up nine

Ex-AF Officer Goes On Trial on Bribe Charges

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A former Air Force officer went on trial today in federal court on charges he bribed a Scott Air Force Base sergeant to alter his medical records.

Reserve Lt. Leonard W. Jarosz, Pontiac, Mich., pleaded innocent to the charges he gave $300 to former Sgt. Luther Bradley in August, 1951.

Asst. U. S. Atty. John Morgan Jones told the jury in opening arguments that Jarosz gave the money to Bradley and then was rejected for recall to duty at Scott Air Force Base. Jones said Bradley later asked for more money but Jarosz refused.

Defense Attorney Leo Burke said Jarosz knew nothing about the bribe, that he reported to the base for duty, was rejected, and went home.

Bradley has served a two-year term in connection with other bribes and is now free. Six other officers were fined $200 to $300 on guilty pleas to bribery charges.

France in 1953 produced just over 60 million net tons of coal, an amount produced by U. S. miners in about two months.

Radio Worker Fatally Shot Attacking Gunman Molesting His Girl

CHICAGO (AP)—Richard Dix, 24, a free-lance radio worker, was shot five times and fatally wounded early today while attacking a gunman who kidnapped him and his sweetheart and made improper advances toward the girl.

Dix, 24, was to have appeared on a network show today, "Welcome Travelers." He was a free-lance record tuner and also held several other radio jobs here.

The girl, 19-year-old Carol Giddins told police that when the bandit began making advances Dix broke free, even though his hands had been bound with wire.

She said that after Dix was shot the gunman drove around for 45 minutes with the dying man in the back seat. He did not again try to molest the girl, police said.

Fredericksburg Police Superintendent A. C. Kendall said he now discredits the information given Saturday night by a Negro who previously had been considered "reliable." Kendall said the informer claimed to have been offered $500 by a man and woman whom he took to be Puerto Ricans, "because of their language."

Mr. Eisenhower stopped at the Mary Washington grave while on Saturday night—worshipping place of Confederate President Jefferson Davis and Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Extra precautions were taken but only a heavy rain marred the wreath-laying at the base of a 50-foot granite shaft over the grave of Mary Hall Washington at Fredericksburg, Va.

Secret Service Chief E. U. Baughman said his agents checked the alleged plot, reported to Fredericksburg police by an "informer," and found nothing to verify it.

HARRISBURG MARINE SGT. TAKES COURSE IN NAVAL GUNFIRE SUPPORT

Master Sgt. Warren McSparran, USMC, former student at Harrisburg Township high school, is taking special training in the naval gunfire support of amphibious landings at the U. S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Va.

The training is given by the Amphibious Training Command, U. S. Atlantic Fleet, commanded by Rear Admiral Rufus E. Rose, USN.

Sgt. McSparran is a veteran of World War II Pacific actions as well as Korea. He is regularly stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Pvt. Leonard Poole and Pvt. John R. Poole left Friday for Fort Lewis, Wash., for possible shipment to the Far East. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Poole, Galatia, Ill. 2, who also had with them last week their son, Gregory, on separation leave, after service with the army in Korea.

4,000 Attend Fifth Annual SIU Music Festival

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—About 4,000 persons braved chilly air and the threat of rain Saturday night at the fifth annual Southern Illinois Music Festival.

Metropolitan Opera contralto Jean Madeira, a native of Southern Illinois, was the "honored soloist" on the program in McAndrew Stadium at Southern Illinois university.

Bernard Miller of Belleville was the festival's "honored musician." Nearly 3,000 elementary and high school students from 39 communities made up the choruses and bands which presented most of the program.

Shirley Yount, 18-year-old Centralia soprano, sang the aria which won her top honors in the Southern Illinois music contest earlier in the day.

Miss Yount, four other vocalists and six pianists from Southern Illinois will compete in the Chicago Land Music Festival in Chicago in August.

Also on the program were the Murphysboro High School band and Red Bud Drum and Bugle Corps.

Sherman Pupils Receive Ratings

Music students of Mrs. P. W. Sherman who won ratings in piano at the music contest held in Herrin Friday and Saturday were: Linda Rude, superior; Ramona Gaddis, Raleigh, superior; Janet Tanner, first; Dorris Jean Williams, first; Stanley Sue Lambert, first; and Janet Jahn, second.

At the music festival in Carbondale Saturday night was the preliminary for the Chicago Land Music Festival to be held in August.

Larry Edwards, Carrier Mills, received an excellent rating in piano, and Charles Rann, Carrier Mills, a good rating. Mrs. Sherman, who accompanied the boys to Carbondale, was recognized Saturday evening at the concert held in the McAndrew stadium as a post honored musician.

Drowns in Crab Orchard Lake

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Wilfred Phillips, 38, Coulterville, drowned in Crab Orchard Lake Sunday afternoon when waves upset his boat.

Phillips' companion, Charles Crear, also of Coulterville, who hung on to the boat, was rescued by Wally Thurmond and R. D. Acuff of Marion.

Phillips' body was recovered.

BETWEEN YOU'N ME

Six years ago, spring surprise Marv Grissom of the Giants was within one wide pitch of his out-right release in the minors . . . bases loaded, none out, score tied and Grissom serves up three balls in relief . . . But the next three were strikes, two pop-ups followed—and a confident Marv was ready to jump from Sacramento back to the majors . . .

Leo Durocher's locker was moved into the main Polo Grounds dressing room at Horace Stoneham's behest so The Lip couldn't pop off about his players in the privacy of his office . . .

Addendum on the Jackie Robinson-Sal Maglie vendetta: Jackie recently told Sal, "You must be a . . . magician . . . to get us out with the junk you throw" . . . which recalls that two years ago, Robbie after two futile pops against Maglie, was thrown out on a dragged bunt . . . and as the thoroughly aroused Robbie chugged across first, Sal, running alongside, chided, "Jackie, you're in the wrong business. You should have been a clown" . . .

If pros were good enough to compete with and against collegians in World War II, why should Ford Ord sprinter (and fullback) Ollie Matson be ineligible now? . . . or was he winning too many dashes? . . .

The Yanks' Jim McDonald used to chew tobacco—until a line drive through the box made him swallow his cud . . . The Houston Buffs have a young pitcher named Tony Stathos, who used to walk around squeezing a sponge ball to strengthen his hand . . . The Nats' Jim Busby played tailback for Texas Christian in the 1945 Cotton Bowl with a broken collarbone taped up . . .

Could the strange omission of one of the most talented collegians in the first round of the pro baseball draft be due to the fact he likes an occasional nip or two? . . .

Sammy Baugh was the boyhood idol of Harry Agganis (who also wore No. 33) and was instrumental in sundering him to a baseball career . . . Caroline Faces Army Draft

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—J. C. Caroline, the Columbia Negro youth who rewrote Big Ten rushing records as a sophomore at the University of Illinois last fall, may be drafted before the 1954 season. Selective Service records showed today.

Classifications posted at Richmond County draft board No. 40 here showed that Caroline was reclassified from 1-A to 1-SC on April 28. That means he will be deferred until the end of the academic year. Caroline, who went from Booker T. Washington high school here to All-America fame at Illinois in his first year of varsity football, apparently had been reclassified 1-A earlier this year after running into scholastic difficulty.

He was reportedly dropped from a ROTC unit at the Champaign, Ill., school after he fell behind in his studies, and Col. James Hunter, South Carolina director of selective service, said persons dropped from college ROTC units were automatically classified 1-A. To Consider Deferment

However, the 1-SC classification two weeks ago means Caroline is at present maintaining passing grades and cannot be called for induction until the end of the academic year.

Since he is a sophomore, Caroline would be eligible for classification 2-S, should he complete the year in the upper two-thirds of his class. This would make him eligible for further deferment.

However, a draft board spokesman said even if Caroline were classified 1-A, that would "not indicate" that he would definitely be inducted into the Armed Forces. His case would be considered on its merits for possible additional deferment.

Last fall, Caroline and another Negro halfback, Mickey Bates, teamed to propel the Illini to a tie with Michigan State for the Big Ten title. Caroline arased the Big Ten single season rushing record set a quarter of a century ago by Red Grange.

Questions concerning Caroline's eligibility arose Saturday when he was not in uniform as the Illini wound up spring football drills with the annual intra-squad game.

Caroline Fails To Show Up for Inter-Squad Game

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Ray Eliot, University of Illinois football coach, said that his star halfback, J. C. Caroline, has been studying so hard to maintain his eligibility that he didn't show up for the intra-squad game marking the end of spring practice Saturday. The game ended in a 13-13 tie.

Eliot didn't seem too concerned over reports that his sensational halfback was in jeopardy because his grades were slipping.

"J. C. has just been studying extra hard and that's the reason he couldn't play Saturday," Eliot said.

He said that he thought Caroline "would be all right" with his professors by the time the Big Ten season opens next fall.

Dean Fred Turner said, "I can't see that Caroline is in any particular trouble with his grades."

There was no way, Turner said, of telling what the scholastic status of Caroline or any other athlete would be before the end of the semester.

Scharlau Beats Snead in Playoff Of Greenbrier Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Sammy Snead's blowup on a 15-inch putt, one of the oldest stories in golf, proved a $2,000 windfall today to Herman Scharlau of Boca Raton, Fla., one of the newest names on the big-time tournament circuit.

Scharlau, a 33-year-old who had never won a major tourney before, captured the Greenbrier Open title and the $2,000 first prize that goes with it when he beat Snead, the home pro, Sunday on the third hole of a sudden death playoff.

The playoff was ordered immediately after Scharlau, Snead and Jackie Burke Jr. of Klamath Lake, N. Y., each wound up with identical 274s for 72 holes.

Snead took $1,000 for finishing second while Burke earned $700 for third place.

Veterans George Fazio of Pine Valley, N. J., and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., were tied for fourth place with 275s.

Stock Car Driver Receives Chest Injuries in Races Here

First accident which sent a driver to a hospital bed in the three years the Illinois-Missouri Stock Car Racing association has conducted auto races at the Saline county fairgrounds occurred Saturday night.

Nathan Anthony of Wallonville, near Mt. Vernon, remained in a hospital today with chest injuries received when his car flipped on the curve just as the race had ended and his upset car was bumped into by another.

This accident occurred in the semi-feature, an 11-car affair and Anthony, driving the B-36, had just finished third and went into the curve past the finish line with the other machines. There his car overturned and he didn't get out.

An ambulance was rushed to the scene and the driver, who was complaining of his chest was placed on a stretcher and rushed to the hospital.

The feature race was won by the No. 5, driven by Cliff Rolland of Mt. Vernon, who also had the best time in the trials, 17.75 seconds. The 702, with Bob Fletcher of Harrisburg driving, was second, the 97, with Glenn Gibbs of Harrisburg behind the wheel, was third, and Charlie Tate of Carbondale in the K-38 was fourth.

The night was cold but the racing was hot Saturday night, the opening night of stock car racing. Twenty cars, plenty of them fast judging by the time trial marks, were on hand for the evening.

The semi-feature was won by the K-38 and Tate, with the 7B-Jr. and Leonard Grisham second and the B-36 with Anthony driving third.

In a handicap event, which was a race featuring the six fastest cars on the grounds, Rolland in the No. 5 was first, Howard Meacham of Grand Tower in the EJ-7 was second and Bobby Bain of Carbondale in the 98 was third.

Results of the four heat races: Heat I: No. 5, Rolland, first; 98, Bain, second; K-38, Tate, third; Heat II: EJ-7, Meacham, first; BM-36, Bob McMillen of Herrin, second; P-38, Jerry Brinkley of Equality, third.

Heat III: B-36, Anthony, first; 805, Teddy Tedrow, second; Bill Hosick, third; Heat IV: 702, Fletcher, first; 7B-Jr., Grisham, second; 97, Gibbs, third.

Nash Loses 3-1 Decision to Clay, Ky., Nine

The Nash baseball club travelled to Clay, Ky., Sunday and lost a close decision, 3-1, to the Clay Legion team.

It was a well played game, but two errors allowed Clay to score the deciding tallies. Roark started for Nash and pitched good ball for seven innings in which he allowed six hits and one earned run, the other two markers being unearned. Roark struck out two and walked five.

Elleser, a strong right hander with a good fast ball and sweeping curve, went the distance for Clay, giving up but four hits, retiring 11 on strikes and walking two. The Clay club is the same team that has played in Harrisburg several times under the name of the Evansville Orkin Exterminators.

Ronnie Ziegler paced Nash at bat with two hits in four tries, including a homer. Karnes and Sisk had the other two hits for Nash.

Owens was top hitter for Clay with a triple and single. Others in the hit column were Wilmas, Thompson, Holland, and Grossman. Nash put up a good battle and has been invited to play at Clay again later in the season.

Next Sunday Nash will travel to Corydon, Ky., the team featuring Jim Wallace on the mound. Wallace pitched a couple of seasons with the Evansville Braves in the Three I league.

Jet planes frequently leave vapor trails because moisture in their hot exhaust gases crystallizes in the cold air of high altitudes.

Before applying floor wax to a cloth, soak the cloth in cold water and wring it out. This will make the cloth less absorbent, saving you a goodly amount of wax.

5 New Records In Big 10 Track And Field Relays

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois, Michigan and Indiana set five Memorial Stadium records during the weekend in the first Big Ten track and field relays.

Illinois dominated team events with Michigan placing second. There was no team scoring or team championship involved in the meet. Illinois won three relays, posting stadium records in the 440 and sprint medley and winning the mile relay.

A 4:18 clocking gave Illinois the victory in the 440-yard relay. The record was posted by Jim Nagle, Joe Corley, Cirilo McSweeney and Willie Williams.

Ralph Fessenden, Gene Maynard, and Corley and Williams teamed up to give the Illini a record 3:25 victory over Wisconsin in the sprint medley. McSweeney, Corley, Maynard and Fessenden gave the Illini the mile relay crown in 3:15.8.

Michigan took two relay victories, setting stadium records in both. Roy Christiansen, John Moule, John Ross and Pete Gray did the two mile in 7:39.

The Wolverines scored again in the distance medley as Bob Rudelsill, George Lynch and Gray and Ross beat out Indiana in the record time of 10:10.

Indiana combined Mike Cusick, Lennie Robinson, Fred Watson and Ed Hampton for a record-breaking 1:26.6 performance in the 880-yard relay.

Willard Thomson, Illinois' Big Ten hurdles champion, turned in the individual performance of the day as he set a stadium record of 14.0 in the 120-yard high hurdles trial and won the event in 14.2. He captured the 220-yard low hurdles in 22.7, a tenth of a second over the record.

Gene Matthews of Purdue finished the 1 1/2 mile run in 6:50.9 to set a new individual mark in the stadium records.

Merchants Drop 10 to 6 Tilt to Carterville Stars

Eddie Rice threw a four-hitter at the Harrisburg Merchants Sunday afternoon while his Carterville teammates clobbered Kennedy and Malone for 14 hits and a 10-6 victory in a game played on the township park diamond.

The locals went into the final frame with a 6-3 lead, and for the second straight game, the pitching and defense folded. Buzz Kennedy started for the Merchants but yielded to Malone in the third. Malone threw a creditable game until the ninth. In this frame the visitors picked up six safeties while the inner defense floundered helplessly and Carterville raced seven runs across pay dirt.

Carterville took a one run lead in the first on a single and two errors only to have the locals knock the game in their half on a walk, an error, and a stolen base. The visitors then forged ahead two runs in the third stanza on three safeties and a pair of passes. The Merchants then had five runs in the fourth as five runs crossed the plate as the visitors defense had a temporary relapse. That was all the Merchants could do with the young curveballer, who hurled five straight hitless innings.

Ethridge gathered three hits to lead the Stars while Freddie Williams Tom Dunbar, Romanosky and Malone had the only Merchant hits. Farley was behind the plate for the Stars and Romanosky for the locals. Henry Winkelman was the umpire-in-chief.

John Wells Wins Sports Achievement Award at Park College

John Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wells, 912 South Granger street, was recognized for achievement in the field of sports at Park college, Parkville, Mo., at an annual sports award dinner Friday on the campus.

Wells was awarded a Park jacket for his participation in the college sports program. Awards went to 15 men and nine women.

J. H. Robinson of Kansas City, vice president of the American Soccer League, spoke on the importance of sports in preparing a graduate for later life.

Stan Musial Hits His 10th Homer as Cardinals, Reds Split; Cubs Top Braves, 5-3

By CARL LUNDQUIST

United Press Sports Writer
Maybe the home run title Stan Musial once missed because of an umpire's questionable decision will go to the "Man" at last this year, along with the bat title and a few other honors that would make him "Mr. Everything."

He almost won the right to that accolade in 1948 when he led in batting with 376, hits with 230, runs with 135, doubles with 46, triples with 18, runs batted in with 131, and total bases with 426.

Today the Duke of Donora, Pa., is well on his way toward similar achievements as he paces the majors in hitting at a .382 clip, is tied with Hank Sauer in home runs with 10, and leads in runs batted in with 28. He is near the top in hits with 34 and in runs scored with 23.

Of all the laurels, though, he would like to get another shot at that home run title because he missed sharing it in 1948 when he hit 39 and should have been credited with another that he blasted in Philadelphia.

Hits 10th Homer

The ball took off to right field, hit something and bounced back on the field, Musial recalled. "I thought sure it was a homer but the umpire would not allow it. Later Del Ennis, playing right, told me it definitely went out of the park. It wasn't so bad then, but later when I was only one behind Ralph Kiner and Johnny Mize it was kind of rough."

Musial hit his 10th homer Sunday with two on to highlight a seven-run inning as the Cardinals walloped Cincinnati, 10-7, and he added two singles, batting in four runs. But Cincinnati rebounded to win the second game, 6-5, as another home run title threat, Ted Kluszewski, hit two and made it three for the day. Musial got a double and single in the second game, as Solly Hemus and pitcher Ellis Deal homered in a losing cause. Del Rice of the Cardinals and Jim Greengrass of Cincy also hit first game homers.

Erskine Shades Roberts

Sauer blasted his 10th and Kiner also got one as the Cubs topped Warren Spahn, 5-3 at Milwaukee, while Brooklyn defeated the Phils 2-1 as Carl Erskine shaded Robin Roberts in a duel. The Giants topped Pittsburgh 5-1. The pace-setting Tigers defeated the White Sox in 11 innings, 3-2, then battled to a 0-0 10-inning darkness tie in the American league, while the Yankees won, 7-4, from Philadelphia, then played a 1-1 tie in the night. Bob Turley, the Baltimore Bullet, pitched a four-hitter for a 10-inning 2-1 win over Cleveland and the Red Sox-Washington double bill was rained out at Boston.

Bob Rush struck out five and scattered eight hits in winning his second game for the Cubs while Erskine, though giving up nine walks, was helped by five double plays in his triumph over Roberts. Doubles by Duke Snider and Sandy Amoros and a single by Billy Cox gave Brooklyn its runs.

Sal Maglie became the first NL pitcher to win five games when he pitched a six-hitter to hand Pittsburgh its fifth straight defeat. Willie Mays with a two-run triple and Al Dark with a double and two singles paced the hitters.

Gromek Wins 5th Game

Dark horse Detroit made it two straight over Chicago with its opening victory, the fifth for older Steve Gromek without a loss. It came when Cass Michaels erred after a single by Frank House and two walks loaded the bases. He threw wildly on a grounder by Harvey Kuenn and House scored. In the second game, Billy Pierce struck out 12 for Chicago and Billy Hoefft whiffed seven in a fine south-paw duel. Pierce gave up nine hits, Hoefft six.

A three-run homer by Andy Carey, a two-run homer by Yogi Berra and a bases-empty blast by Enos Slaughter saddled rookie Bob Trice with his first defeat, while Wilmer Shantz, rookie catcher, hit a grand slam homer for the As. In the second game, ex-Yankee Bill Renna kept Alex Kellner in front with a homer until the Yankees tied it in the eighth on Bill Skowron's timely single.

An error by George Strickland on Neil Berry's grounder, Turley's sacrifice, and infield out and Gil Coan's single gave Baltimore the run it needed to end a five-game losing streak.

Sunday's star: Stan Musial of the Cardinals who hit his 10th homer and got five hits for the day, taking over the NL batting lead at .382 as St. Louis beat Cincinnati, 10-7, then lost, 6-5.

Queen Elizabeth Pledges Safekeeping Of Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR — Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, in a tense royal visit to this rock fortress which Spain claims, today pledged its "sure safekeeping" by the British.

The Queen appeared under protection of the most stringent security measures enforced since war-time.

"This occasion," she told a luncheon gathering of Gibraltar's officials, "may be regarded as a landmark in your history, and it indicates the determination to go forward in future partnership and amity for the good government and sure safekeeping of the colony and fortress of Gibraltar."

Queen Elizabeth stepped ashore from the royal yacht Britannia to a crashing salute of 21 guns and three cheers from massed troops.

But in Spain, where Generalissimo Francisco Franco has demanded the return of Gibraltar by Britain, the visit was ignored.

The first incident of the day was reported when someone tacked the British Union Jack to the door of the closed Spanish Consulate at Gibraltar. Spain closed the Consulate for the duration of the Queen's visit.

Prince Charles — 5-year-old heir to the British throne — was a center of attraction as the Britannia arrived in the sunny harbor for the royal visit.

He and his sister Princess Anne, 3, had a bridge all their own—the raised platform of the sundeck.
